Come sit for a spell at the Acorn Tent

INTRODUCING our reimagined Acorn tent.

Formerly our Childrens' Space, the Acorn Tent is evolving to become an all-ages spot to rest, have a snack or beverage, and more.

This year we will be premiering our PAY IT FORWARD table.

We invite our attendees to bring an item that no longer serves you to pass on to others in our Pagan community.

Books, cartomancy decks, runestones, clothing, home decor, that thing you accidentally bought two of that time, a magical item you found in the wild... Could be just about anything loosely related to magical practice. (Please, nothing that could be mistaken for a weapon.)

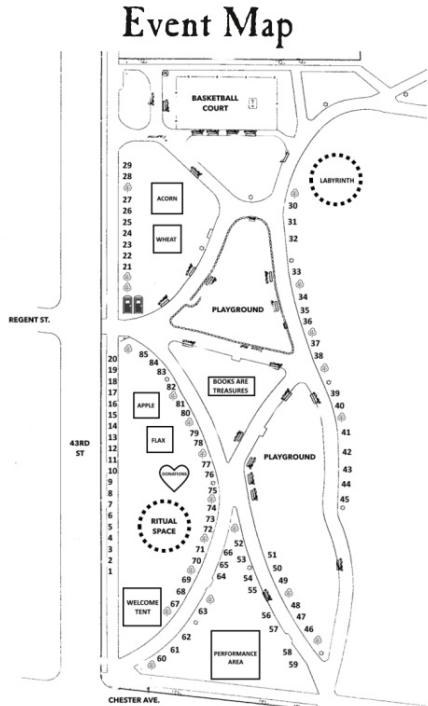

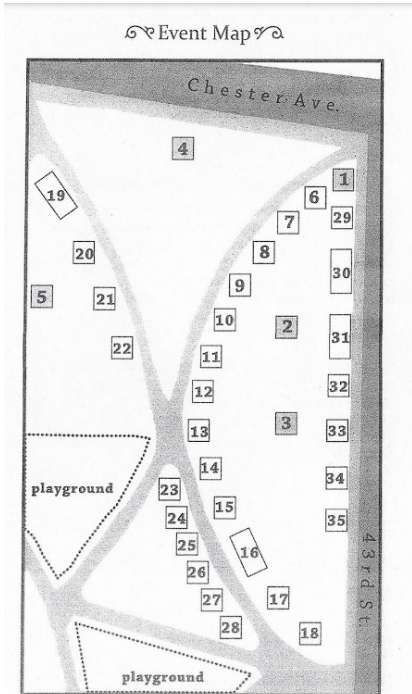

The idea is simple. Just place your item to give on the table at any point during the day. Maybe pick something up if it catches your eye. You don't have to give something to pick something up.

Items not claimed by 4:30pm will become property of Philadelphia Pagan Pride to either donate or bring back next year.

Welcome to Philadelphia Pagan Pride Day 2024!

2024

My oh my how we've grown...

I missed the first Philadelphia Pagan Pride Day in 2013 - I first heard about it AFTER it had passed - so I made it my mission to attend in 2014.

I haven't looked back since. This is where I belong.

Walking around the park, seeing brightly colored tents bursting with handmade crafts, magickal symbols, tools and supplies fills me with joy. This is not something we have access to every day. Etsy shops on the Internet cannot replicate the feel of an open, outdoor market and we're not going to find these types of items at a big-box store.

Interspersed between vendors are the organizations, groups, circles, groves, covens, and kindreds that make up the backbone of our community. Many of our faiths don't have permanent physical spaces like a church or temple we can go to for resources but we do have Pagan Pride events like this where we can gather and create connections.

Let's not forget about all of the things you can learn at a Pagan Pride event. Our workshop presenters cover a wide array of subjects this year and I encourage you to check out as many as you can. There are several blank pages in the back of this program to use for notes. Pens and pencils are available at the Welcome Tent. Cherish these learning moments. I STILL have notes and handouts from various Pagan Pride workshops I've attended over the years.

Our performers keep our spirits fed with the sacred art of dance, music, and spoken word as we relax under the shade of Clark Park's trees. If the activity of the day gets to be too much, follow the signs to the labyrinth to clear your mind. Feeling famished? Head over to the Acorn Tent for a snack or a drink. I also heard there might be a Fairy handing out prizes to those who complete our Scavenger Hunt.

Ivo Dominguez Jr., a fellow Pagan Pride event organizer, joins us as our Keynote Speaker this year. His discussion about the future of Paganism, followed by a beautiful ritual, promises to be a high note of the day.

I hope you enjoy every minute of this day. Learn new things, forge connections, and most importantly, please properly dispose of your trash.

Our faiths and practices differ in many ways, but we all live on the same planet. It is our Sacred Duty to take care of it.

Hail the Community!

President & Local Coordinator*

SCAVENGER HUNT

Around the toadstool you go and see where Faery fly and gnomes abide. Through these woods eight fairies hide, find them to show the secrets they hold. Find these eight by the colour they walk. Find the pixie whose tears are pink and they'll show you the way to the rainbow road beyond.

Bright peridot eyes these Fae possess. With pointed ears and ageless face they show you further along the path. With Arrows drawn they'll shoot the way to the fey of Red.

These Blood Red Fae stalk the empty, the ruin, and fallen. With cold in their veins and blood on their cap, they'll show you the way to the end of the rainbow bathed in Green.

End of the Rainbow you have found, where the Leprechaun Jig and Cobble year round. Dance their jig and spin all around and they'll point you to the Orange grove.

Mischievous Fae these beings are. They zip and fly through trees and plants, playing pranks on all who walk through their Groves; a joke is all you need and they'll show you the way to the deep Blue sea.

In the deep blue Sea these Fae swim and play all day. Shifting from Seal to Human at whim. With a bark and a flip they'll show you the way to the Purple caves where the crystals grow.

Purple Glittering Stones as tall as the skies is where these Fae mine in the dark. Shine a light, and don't forget to keep your wits and pockets sharp. Trust in them and you'll always lose your way and you'll never find the Dark Red garnet buried with the last of our Fae.

A Beautiful Garden filled with brilliant flowers and abundant vegetation is where the last of our Fae work. They tend to the Earth to make it rich and prosperous; and protect the fountain where your final treasure lies. Find the Eternal spring with the hearts of the earth and pluck your prize from its cool waters.

Can you find all of the fae?

You've walked the Colored Path of the Fae, from Pixie to Gnome, you've seen and known them all and now you can say what good friends you've made. Take a heart so you'll always know of the Goodly Neighbors that will always be.

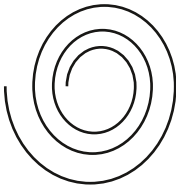

(Find Wendie the Fairy in the Fairy Ring at the Acorn Tent by 5pm to claim your prize!)

Our Mission

The Mission of the Pagan Pride Project is to foster pride in Pagan identity through education, activism, charity and community. In keeping with that mission, Philadelphia Pagan Pride Day is intended to bring together Pagans of all traditions to advance understanding, communication and fellowship among the various communities.

Philadelphia Pagan Pride Day is an open, public, family-friendly harvest event. We welcome anyone to participate who supports our mission and/or wishes to learn more about the Pagan community and our beliefs. An important facet of the mission is to build community among Pagans and adherents of non-traditional faith systems and to educate the greater community about those beliefs.

The event is designed as a celebration of life and of a community that contains diverse elements. That being said, we also find hate and intolerance in any form abhorrent and counterproductive to our mission.

We on the Philadelphia Pagan Pride Board of Directors are committed to our stated mission as part of the greater Pagan Pride Project. The integrity of Philadelphia Pagan Pride Day, its mission and the safety of the participants are our primary obligations as organizers of the event.

Any decisions made regarding changes to the schedule of events are based solely on the effort to fulfill our mission and to provide an enjoyable and meaningful event for our community.

The views, opinions, and outside affiliations of the participants and attendees of Philadelphia Pagan Pride Day do not necessarily reflect the views of the organization, its Board, or event volunteers.

Books are Treasures Foundation

Since 2021, we have had the privilege of sharing the park with some unexpected and wonderful guests, the lovely organizers of the Books are Treasures Foundation.

This fellow non-profit is dedicated to their mission of “feeding the mind and soul” of children and families by hosting a giveaway of both books and non-perishable foods. Their booth will be set up in the "triangle" area across from the Basketball Court.

A bench dedicated to Georgianne V. Mack, an educator, mother, and the inspiration behind the non-profit's formation, is the centerpiece of their booth.

The Future Is Esoteric, Exoteric & Secular

There has been a rapid increase in the size of the Pagan community and in its diversity of beliefs and practices. Indeed we no longer have a good umbrella term, but for simplicity sake I'll use Pagan. This is not the first time in Western history that there has been a resurgence of interest in the mysteries, occult philosophy, and magic. In the past these waves have risen and then subsided. There are good reasons to believe that this wave will not subside. It is my position that we have crossed a critical threshold. It is as if the seeds of certain ideas, cast into the winds and seas of history, have found their way to an island with fertile soil but sparse life. This island of unmet needs and longings for a world full of spirits and wonder is now growing green. With each generation, the land is filling with new life that is diversifying and evolving to fill every niche. The work of the next several decades is the cultivation of esoteric, exoteric, and secular approaches to paganism. It is my contention that unless all three of these expressions of paganism are tended, we will subside. If these three are embraced, then we will flourish.

Ivo Dominguez, Jr. has been a witch since 1978 and is one of the founders and Elders of the Assembly of the Sacred Wheel. He is the anchor author for the new twelve book Witch's Sun Sign Series. Ivo is the author of The Four Elements of the Wise, Keys to Perception, Casting Sacred Space, Practical Astrology for Witches & Pagans, and Spirit Speak.

His techniques are rooted in a synthesis of traditional metaphysical teachings, modern science, and memories from past lives. In his mundane life, he has been a computer programmer, the executive director of an AIDS/HIV service organization, a metaphysical bookstore owner, and more. He is queer, poly, and lives in the woods of Southern Delaware with his family of choice.

Held by the Earth: A Grief Careshop

Naila Francis

Vendor Spot #76-77 - This Hallowed Wilderness

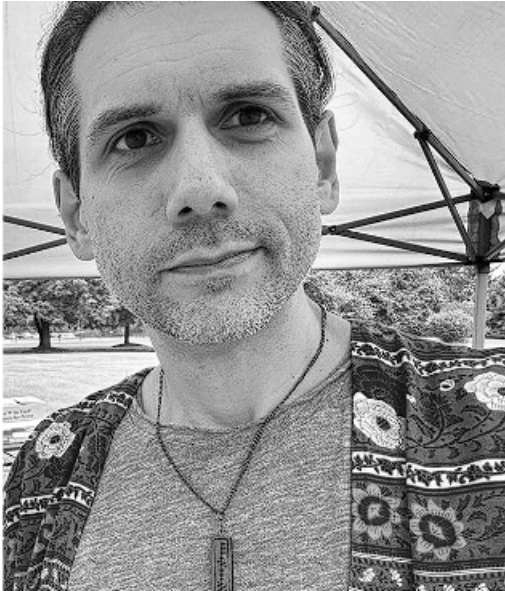

Workshop Location: Flax

So often, those who are grieving feel abandoned by or have no access to support. The people they thought would be there for them aren't, or they stop checking in on them, or no one shows up at all. Yet the Earth is always there to hold us, offering her unconditional support. This careshop is an invitation to be resourced by nature, to connect to her generosity through meditation, journaling, ritual practice and listening for what she may have to say to help you hold your grief. All griefs, from the personal to the planetary, are welcome.

Naila Francis is a poet, grief coach, death midwife, and practitioner of an Earth-based Andean shamanic tradition. She is also a founding member of Salt Trails, a Philadelphia collective normalizing and making public space for grief through community rituals.

Shapeshifting with The Morrigan

Tim Jones

Vendor Spot #82 - Tim Jones: Tarot Practitioner

Workshop Location: Apple

As humans, we're always evolving and have shed former shapes in our lives. Sometimes those shapes, those old representations of ourselves, helped us to fit in, to cope, or to explore our own inner shadows. Shapeshifting is normal, active shapeshifting takes intention. Join Tim Jones as they present a guided workshop on shapeshifting with The Morrigan. Learn how working with The Morrigan assisted Tim with coming out as genderfluid and pansexual and what The Morrigan expects of those who work with her. Experience guided meditations and expect to lay the groundwork for your next new shape.

Tim Jones (they/them) is an eclectic Pagan and Tarot Practitioner from NJ. They hold a screenwriting degree and are a published author. Working with The Morrigan, Tim uses their knowledge of storytelling to help others understand their own unfolding story free of charge.

Magna Dea in Contemporary Women's Mysteries Traditions

Julia Curcio Alexander, PhD
Workshop Location: Wheat

Luce Irigaray proposed that women conceive of the Divine in their own image to become fully emancipated. Le féminin has been subordinated to the patriarchal frame, and religion is among many systems complicit in the epistemic domination of women. Ritual celebrations of the Women's Wheel of the Year operate at a deeply symbolic and emotive level to transform deep memory structures, heal internalized misogyny and open to the expansive intersubjective field. Today's presentation will include a Goddess invocation and reflections on our transition from Lammas to Mabon, on what we sacrificed and what we hope to reap. Open to all.

Greetings, I am an initiate in a number of eastern and western traditions including Soto Zen and feminist witchcraft. I am also a psychologist in private practice with training in depth psychology (Modern Psychoanalytic and Jungian) working as a therapist and expert witness.

A Death Cafe for the Pagan Community

Facilitator: Mica James Cosentino

Vendor Spot #76-77 - Little Bell Deathcare

Workshop Location: Flax

A Death Cafe for the greater pagan community returns for its fourth year, as a place for folks to gather and partake in a facilitated, group-directed, open discussion of death with no agenda. The Death Cafe model & movement holds the objective to “increase awareness of death with a view to helping people make the most of their lives”.

I am an animal death doula certified by the University of Vermont. My belief is that appropriate planning, conversation, and consideration around dying can eliminate a lot of the fear we so often feel about death. I condemn western society's avoidant and shameful approach to death & dying.

Becoming the Oracle: Transforming the Inner Self

Sue Dempsey

Vendor Spot #76-77 - Sue Dempsey: Illumination Tarot Readings

Workshop Location: Apple

Tap into your inner guidance and the guidance surrounding you through a series of tools and suggestions that can help us to amplify and celebrate who we truly are and create positive change in life.

Sue Dempsey, a lifelong intuitive, defines her "purpose" as that of service - helping and guiding others through the areas in life to highlight a path to one's greatest potential - whether it be through her Illumination Tarot Readings, Reiki, or through individual or group discussions.

Chaos Magic: One Mage's View

Franklin Evans

Workshop Location: Wheat

Join us for a participatory exploration of Chaos Magic. You are invited to share your questions, opinions and theories about Magic in general, how Chaos can be defined, and how it informs our practices. Everything is a starting point, not a destination. Belief is accepting that illusion is real. Chaos Magic is knowing that illusion and reality are interchangeable. Words are the bridge between the source of power and the effects of power. Thus, Magic, power, spiritual energy are all bridges. See you on the bridge.

I have the honor of being a co-founder of DVPN, and a past coordinator for Philadelphia Pagan Pride Day. I am called Chaos Mage. I style myself as a Shadow Warrior. Mostly, I perpetrate horrendous puns.

How to Make a Mini Book of Shadows

Lynne Rabchuk (aka Reverend PLURall)

Vendor Spot #76-77 - fan fiction Wonder Woman Loves Medusa

Workshop Location: Acorn

Learn how to make your own miniature Book of Shadows with a single sheet of folded paper and a pair of scissors. Supplies will be provided to attendees. After the workshop you can fill in the blank pages to make your own magic come to life.

Raised by a witchy woman who taught me the magic of gemstones, meditation and divination; I've paved my spiritual path with poetry, ceremony, psychology and a reverence for nature. I love to share stories from my journey while learning from others so we can heal ourselves and the world together.

Catholic Folk Magik 101

Dakota St. Clare

Vendor Spot #81 - Apokrypha (w/ Venus Invictus)

Workshop Location: Flax

In this crash course we will map the landscape of Catholic folk magik - the popular practices and beliefs of common folk which were so often syncretized with pre-Christian beliefs. For many of us, Catholic folk magik is the sole repository for ancestral wisdom and it's in the subversive reclamation of these practices that one may effectively build or enhance their spiritual and magikal practice. Join us and learn all about the many saints and madonnas who are beloved across the world for their blessings and protection through traditions thriving outside of Church authority or orthodoxy.

Dakota St. Clare is an educator, diviner & witch who has helped folks find their own authentic spiritual practice for over 15 years. They offer classes, readings, spellwork consults & magikal coaching at Apokrypha, spiritual supplies at St. Lucy Apothecary and occult zines at Black Hand Press.

Calling it In: Intuitive Art as a Ritual for Manifestation

Lauren Schwind

Vendor Spot #76-77 - Subnormal Child

Workshop Location: Apple

Participants will learn the positive benefits of intuitively creating art and tips on working through blocks from the inner critic before being guided in a quick meditation and given a starting point. Then, in their free time, they will use their intuitive talents to work on their original piece of art. When done, participants will have an original piece of art and skills to channel their creative magic with more joy and ease!

Lauren is an artist, art ritual facilitator, and teacher who goes under the name Subnormal Child. Through her intuitive art and workshops, she supports individuals using art in their spiritual practice and self-care.

Solarpunk and Magical Activism

BrightFlame

Vendor Spot # 76-77 - BrightFlame: book signings The Working

Workshop Location: Wheat

Solarpunk is a vibe and a movement lifting interconnections, mutualism, justice, tech aligned with Nature, and radical hope. It is grounded in real world action. We can enhance our solarpunk-aligned work in the world with the tools of the Witch that include grounding, centering, visioning, and shifting and shaping energy. In addition, we can detect and tweak the subtle energies of the dominant and controlling thoughtform born of fascism, capitalism, racism (etc.) to loosen its hold on society. In this experiential session, BrightFlame will guide us through exercises aligned with solarpunk. Through magic, we build resilience. (Peruse her website for more info about solarpunk: brightflame.com)

BrightFlame (she/they) writes, teaches, and makes magic for a just, regenerative world. Part of and teaching in the Reclaiming Tradition since the 1990s, she also offers workshops with her own blend of magic. Her debut novel, THE WORKING, embeds real magic and activism.

Walking the Labyrinth for Peace & Social Change

Athena Dugan, Labyrinth Creatrix
Vendor Spot #30 - EARTHSENERGIES
Workshop Location: Labyrinth

What social issues concern you? Peace and change is needed on a Global level. The Labyrinth is a crucible for transformation. Join us for a Collective Walk on the labyrinth with Chant, Song, and Sound, with a shared focus and intention for Peace and Social Change. As we walk into the center of the labyrinth we'll put our intention (on a slip of paper) into the cauldron; upon dissolving, we'll release our intentions to the Gods, and take a stone of Peace for our return journey.

Athena is an Advanced Veriditas Certified Labyrinth Facilitator, Regional Rep with The Labyrinth Society, Labyrinth Activist, and Labyrinth Tender for PPP Day, where she facilitates and is Creatrix of temporary labyrinths and walks. She is host of the monthly blogcast, LIVING LABYRINTHS. Athena enjoys drumming, magick, and ritual.
